

Connection clients are free. Managing them at scale is not. Citrix, Omnisia, Microsoft AVD, and Amazon WorkSpaces all give away their connection clients but free clients with no centralized management means multiple tools, multiple consoles, and support workflows scattered across every device. And if you're already paying for a dedicated management platform, industry consolidation may have made it more expensive and more restrictive than it should be. zMAN Director fixes both problems at a fraction of the cost.

01 - OVERVIEW

What Is zMAN Director?

AmZetta's centralized endpoint management platform, purpose-built to manage SnapOS-powered endpoints from a single unified console. Complete visibility and control over every endpoint in the fleet, from first boot through ongoing operations provision, configure, secure, update, and support, all without leaving your desk.

Zero-Touch Provisioning

Profile & Policy Enforcement

Certificate Deployment

802.1x Network Access

Remote Diagnostics

03 - WHY ZMAN DIRECTOR

Why IT Teams Choose zMAN Director

One Console for Everything

Provisioning, policy management, certificate deployment, firmware updates, remote access, and diagnostics in a single unified interface.

No On-Site Visits Required

Zero-touch provisioning, silent firmware updates, WebSSH/NoVNC remote access, and zDiag remote diagnostics IT is never physically present.

A More Affordable Management Platform

Comparable enterprise control at a fraction of the cost without the lock-in or renewal pricing increases common after vendor consolidation.

Manages the Full SnapOS Feature Set

Hardware-agnostic deployment, live boot for contractors and BYOD, and Dual-Boot Deployment for phased Windows migrations all from one console.

04 - HOW IT WORKS

Better Together: SnapOS + zMAN

zMAN Director

Central management console for the entire fleet.

zDM Server

Site-level device communication and caching.

SnapOS Endpoint

Auto-provisions at first boot; live boot & Dual-Boot Deployment.

See zMAN Director in Action

Connect with an AmZetta Solutions Engineer for a live demo.

No commitment, no pressure.

Schedule a Demo
amzetta.com/eval • 1-877-991-1809